The Christmas card

A man called Henry invented the Christmas card.

He was a very busy man and had many friends. But because he was so busy, he had no time to write Christmas letters.

So he decided to print cards instead.

The card read 'Merry Christmas and Happy New Year to you.'

A friend of his drew a picture of a Christmas party on the front of the card.

They printed 1000 Christmas cards.

The cards Henry didn't use, he sold.
